SECOND DEGREE MURDER VERDICT RETURNED TODAY FOR NOAH HOUGH

Monessen Man Who Killed Policeman Hears Report of Jury and Says Nothing

MEANS PEN SENTENCE

Five to Twenty Years Imprisonment is the Limit---Members of Monessen Council Attend Court

A verdict of murder in the second degree was returned this morning at 9:30 o'clock in the case against Noah Hough of Monessen, accused of shooting and killing Policeman Michael Entinger at Wireton March 8.

Sentence was not imposed at once although Hough, calm and unemotional, was in the court room. The accused man made no comment on the verdict.

The trial which resulted in Hough's conviction started on Monday afternoon at about 2:30 o'clock, and continued until Wednesday afternoon late, when the case was given to the jury. The jury was out all night.

Hough shot Acting Chief of Police Entinger when the latter was conducting a raid on a disorderly Wireton house. The shooting occurred at the house of a woman known as Mother Dudgeon. This woman last week was found guilty at Greensburg of keeping a bawdy house.

At the time of the shooting Hough was under bond on a charge of maintaining a bawdy house. He had been indicted with others of which Mother Dudgeon was one. After the killing of the policeman he was arrested near Scottdale by Fred J. Ames, a member of the state constabulary.

The second degree verdict will mean a sentence of from five to 20 years. It will be imposed shortly by the court. Members of council and the members of the Monessen police force took an active hand in the rounding up of evidence. Members of council attended court this week.

L. C. B. A. EUCHRE AN ENJOYED FEATURE

The L. C. B. A. euchre Wednesday evening was well attended. Favors were awarded to Miss Nora Riley, Mrs. John Mosseaux, Messrs Jos. Miller and Jos. Connell. The next of the series will be held June 4. A special favor will be given for the most games of the series.

Reception Is Held.

A farewell reception that in a manner resembled a shower was given by the brothers and sisters of Miss Ella Small Tuesday night at the home of her parents on Fallowfield avenue, in honor of her approaching marriage at Portland, Ore., to William McCreery, formerly of Wilkinsburg. Miss Small received a number of beautiful presents.

RECOVER BODY FROM THE CINCINNATI MINE

Another body was recovered this morning from the interior of the Cincinnati mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company at Courtney by workmen in the mine. The number to date is 97. Ninety-six bodies were found within a few days after the disaster.

Bebout and Yohe, the Monongahela undertaking firm that cared for bodies from the mine sent a dead wagon to the mine for the body. It is possible that the body may be that of the son of S. T. Holmes of Finleyville. This is the only one said to be missing.

STRIKE ALL OFF AT THE DIAMOND MINE

Men Go Back to Work After Operations Have Been Suspended for Three Weeks---Affairs Discussed at Meeting

The strike at the Diamond mine of the Diamond Coal company at West Brownsville has been settled by the men going back to work. The strike was declared three weeks ago.

Ostensibly the miners struck to secure the reinstatement of the mine foreman. Really it is declared they quit as a means of protest against the superintendent, demanding his removal.

Their strike was not sanctioned by the national organization, being the action merely of their own local. After discussing their predicament at a meeting held on Tuesday they determined to go back to work and Wednesday the day men returned to their duties.

TRYING CONSTABLES FOR FATAL SHOOTING

Trial Into Case of Killing of Supposed Demented Man Now Under Way at Washington--Bentleyville Occurrence

Constable W. E. Eppley of Bentleyville and James Applegate were arraigned for trial before Judge J. A. McIlvaine Wednesday afternoon on the charge of manslaughter for the shooting of Simon Povojassek in a barn near Bentleyville April 19. The wounded man died the following day.

Povojassek was a Russian 29 years old and is thought to have been demented. He was armed with an axe and roamed around the neighborhood the women and children being much frightened by his actions.

Henry Scott swore out a warrant for his arrest and Constable Eppley deputized Applegate to assist in the arrest. Povojassek took refuge in Scott's barn and when the officers attempted to enter he used pitchforks as javelins and kept them at bay.

Applegate fired one shot and a sound as of the man shuffling around on the floor followed. An investigatin showed Povojassek had been wounded mortally, the ball having gone through his head.

READY TO DEDICATE ON JUNE 8

Plans Laid for St. Jerome's Church Event

BISHOP WILL BE HERE

Announcement was made today by Rev. W. D. Fries, pastor of St. Jerome's Catholic church, that the dedication of the new church at the corner of Washington avenue and Seventh street will take place on Sunday June 8. Right Rev. J. Regis Canevin, bishop of the Pittsburg diocese, will be here and will preach the dedicatory sermon. The magnificent pipe organ installed within the last few days and tested finally Wednesday will be used for the first time in a church service.

The entire program has not been made up for the events of dedication but it is probable that Rev. Robert McDonald, of McKeesport, who was the first pastor of St. Jerome's church, will have a distinct part as well as Rev. T. A. Connors, of Hazelwood and Rev. O. J. Kirby of the Pittsburg cathedral, both former assistant pastors. Rev. B. N. Axmacher, the assistant rector at St. Jerome's will be the master of ceremonies.

The dedicatory services will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. At 10:30 high mass will be celebrated.

Work on the interior of the church is going on a pace. Pews are now being installed. This week a beautiful new window on the south end of the church was installed. This window is patterned after some of the most beautiful windows of the most noted churches in the world. It is of a design descriptive of the mediaeval age.

TRAVELING MAN FOUND DEAD IN BED AT HOTEL

SICK BUT SHORT TIME

Had Been Making Regular Rounds--Family at Pittsburg is Notified

Half reclining, half sitting on the bed, L. R. Hawes, aged about 60 years, a traveling man of Pittsburg was found dead in his room at the Charleroi hotel this morning. He was discovered at about 8 o'clock by hotel attaches, and from evidences had been dead for some hours.

Mr. Hawes came here Monday representing the Pittsburg Hardwood Door company of Pittsburg. He was out and about on Tuesday, but on Wednesday was not seen. At 9 o'clock he asked for an osteopath and Dr. C. C. Wright was called. When the doctor left Mr. Hawes was in bed and resting easy, having been given treatment.

During the night he evidentally struggled into a sitting position on the edge of the bed. Then he fell backward dead. When found his feet were resting on the floor. Kidney trouble is believed to have been the caus of his sudden death.

The body was removed this morning to the mortuary of M. T. Crowley and Coroner James T. Heffran was notified. Investigation proved that the widow of Mr. Hawes lives on Atwood street, Pittsburg. A sister lives in Iron Mountain, Wis., and another close relative is a resident of El Paso, Tex.

The Pittsburg Hardwood Door company was telephoned this morning concerning his death. It was stated at the office there that Mr. Hawes had complained last week of illness, but it was not generally thought at the time that it was anything serious. His order book showed that the last order had been taken at Monongahela on Monday of this week.

From cards in his pocket it was ascertained that Mr. Hawes was a member in good standing of Columbus Council No. 1 of the United Commercial Travelers association.

Storm Does Some Damage

Telephone and Electric Lines Suffer From Pourdown Wednesday Night

Some damage was done to electric and telephone lines by the terrific storm which raged through this section Wednesday evening at about 9 o'clock. The Bell Telephone system suffered considerably in the valley, though at the various exchanges they experienced comparatively little trouble. The Charleroi Telephone company had a number of lines knocked out. The West Penn Electric company suffered to some extent.

ACTION IS PROMISED ON BILLS

Buried Measures to be Resurrected From Committees

NO ADJOURNMENT DATE

Harrisburg, May 23—Whether or not the progresive election bills will all be passed at the session is not at all clear, but if any of them fails the responsibility will be up to the individual senators. Under the pressure of public sentiment Senator Jim McNichol, who has thus far controlled and dictated the senate, has agreed to let the measures be reported out of the committee, where it was intended to let them die, and all the election measures will be reported out of the committee Monday night. These will be fought out on the floor and the success or failure of them will be due to the individual senators.

It is stated that the program of McNichol is to emulate the non-partisan ballot bill, which is one of Governor Tener's measures, so as to provide, only for the nomination and election of judges on the non-partisan plan. The State-wide preferential primary is to be passed "as an evidence of good faith to the people," and the Flinn party enrollment measure is to be passed as it came from the house the remainder of the election bills passed by the house to be defeated.

There may also be a fight to get the resolution out of the senate committee to provide for the submission to the people the question of holding a constitutional convention. McNichol is determined that the people shall not determine this question themselves, as he evidently intends to settle that himself. The Progressives and Independents in the senate announce that if the bills are not reported out of the "pickling" committee they will move to discharge that committee.

Thus far no date for adjournment has been agreed upon. That has been the game of the senate—to get a date for adjournment, and then play for delay on the measures they want killed.

LEAVES TO JOIN FIANCE IN WEST

Miss Ella Small, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Small of Fallowfield avenue left today for Portland, Ore., where she will join her fiance, William McCreery, of Portland. A TIMELY GATHERING.

The meeting of the Farmer's Annual Institute and State Board of Agriculture at Washington this week is a most timely gathering. As more and better farming is one of the most essential economic problems of the age for this country, the institute will add to the concerted efforts that both the state and nation are making to increase the agricultural products of this country. Every locality is amenable to improvement along this line, and the promotion of more and better farming is a vital local as well as national issue.

When it is shown by national statistics that the population of the United States has increased twenty-one per cent, within a specified time, while the increase in agricultural products for the same time is but eleven per cent, we can readily see that "more is going out than is coming in." When agricultural production does not keep pace with consumption, scarcity and high prices cannot help but prevail. Add to this the waste and extravagance of inadequate distribution and the result cannot be otherwise than rapidly increased cost of the necessaries of life to the consumer.

That the issue is local, is evidenced by the information elicited in consequence of the meeting at Washington t hat there are 23,000 less acres now being farmed in Washington county than there were ten years ago. This is not nearly all the idle and unproductive land in the county, but the amount is sufficient to furnish a striking example of the terrific economic waste that is going on around us all the time. If this land were in a high state of cultivation the products would find a ready market right within the county's limits, thus eliminating the cost of packing and settlement. This non-productive land is equivalent to a factory with all its thrown idle that formerly employed between 2,000 and 3,000 men. Apply this ratio to every county in the state and you realize what a gigantic waste of resources is everywhere in progress in this state alone.

GOOD ROADS AND FARMING

Following the recent publication of the Good Roads Year Book, which presents the road situation in the United States to date, the American Highway Association has begun the issuance of a series of inst uctive phases of road improvement from the standpoint of both the layman and the engineer, says the Harrisburg Telegraph.

Among the first to be issued is a reprint of the address of W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway, at the recent American Road Congress, on 'Good Roads and the Cost of Living." Mr. Finley holds that the cost of living is largely an economic question and that efforts should be turned toward increasing the area of farm land under cultivation and increasing the yield of farm products per acre. He points to the well-known fact that prospective farm settlers are largely governed by railroad and public road facilities and that when these are not adequate farm operations are discouraged.

"Increasing farm products by getting more people onto the land and by bringing a large area under more intense cultivation is largely a matter of transportation," said Mr. Finley.

The American Highway Association is composed of upward of 2,000 the leading men and women of the nation and is conducting a great campaign of good roads education and reform throughout the United States. It is doing a great and unselfish work and its publications, if they are all as practical as those just issued, should have a wide circulation in Pennsylvania, where we are just now in the midst of a great good roads campaign in which certain misdirected people are striving to defeat the gigantic step forward planned for the rural communities of Pennsylvania under the proposed highway loan.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Contrary to the general belief the period of suicides is in the spring and summer time instead of the winter," said a traveling man a day or two ago, when the question of self-destruction was a matter of discussion. "Happening in Philadelphia last week I dropped into a small pharmacy where I usually buy cigs when in that city. Following me into the store was a girl about 16 or 17 years old. She asked for a poison which the druggist refused. Unconcerned he turned to me and said;

"'We can't take the chance. During May and June,' he continued, 'we find that the wave of suicide by poison is at its height. In most cases the self-destruction is confined to girls about 16 or 17 years old, or those at the sentimental age of less than 21. We have been in the business here for years, and this statement is the result of long experience and study.'

"'Do you ever sell poison to girls you do not know?' I asked.

"'Oh, yes,' the druggist replied, 'but at this season of the year we are doubly careful. Keep a lookout this year, and you'll find that I am right.'

"Since my Philadelphia friend made this statement I have had it confirmed by other druggists along my route," said the traveling man. "These tell me that there are more suicides by poison in the spring and summer than in the fall and winter when one would naturally think the outlook was more discouraging."

RESTORED INN OF AUERBACH

Tavern Where Goethe Placed One of Scenes in "Faust" Has Been Reconstructed.

The latest concrete evidence of literary devotion in Germany is the thorough reconstruction of the "Tavern of Auerbach," where Goethe placed one of the most vivid scenes of "Faust." It is melancholy to reflect that nothing more remains of the old building, since after a complete demolition the architects have constructed a wholly modern building on the site, but care has been taken to preserve intact the cellar, which has been for fully a century an object of pilgrimage for Germans, who are at once proud of their literature and fond of recherche drinking.

Painters of an "advanced" school have been commissioned to adorn the walls of the various dining rooms with scenes taken from Goethe's great drama, while to complete the new attracitons it is announced that the staircase leading down to the cellar will be furnished with two bronze statues, the subject of which is unknown. The evolution of the "Tavern of Auerbach" promises to be the same as that of other like sacred places. It will probably bring in an excellent income to the restaurateur.

ENGLISH WOMEN RUN FARMS

Through Co-Operation Special Provision Is Made for Them in Some Sections.

Seventy-five enthusiastic women farmers met recently at the Criterion restaurant, the occasion being the fifth annual dinner of the Women's International union. Mrs. Wilton Allhusen presided.

Miss Emerson maintained that women have not the same facilities, capital, and so forth, as men.

"The remedy," she said, "lies in co-operation. A company has obtained a farm at Heathfield, in Sussex, and has divided it into small holdings for women farmers. Bungalows are provided for the tenants, whose agreements secure fixity of tenure and who have perfect liberty in developing their land as they like. At the same time they have the benefit of expert advice. The company markets all the produce, and is able to obtain better terms than could the individual tenants."—London Mail.

Ozone as a Preservative.

An important improvement in the technique of cold storage has recently been introduced in Germany, viz., the use of ozone as a supplement to the ordinary process of refrigeration. In the cold storage rooms attached to slaughter houses the temperature of the air is liable to be raised to a serious extent when the doors are left open for any reason; for instance, when meat is being put in or taken out. The micro-organisms of putrefaction immediately become active under such circumstances, and the keeping quality of the meat is diminished. Now it is well known that ozone is a powerful germicide. If the air of the cold-storage rooms is ozonized, its temperature may be raised without injury to the contents. This has been proved by numerous experiments, and ozonizing apparatus has now been installed in the abatoirs at Cologne, Potsdam, Brandenburg, Berlin, Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Dusseldorf, Freiburg (Silesia), Aix-la-Chapelle and Erfurt; in a cold storage depot at Hamburg, and in various dairies, poultry and game stores and fish establishments.

To Put Out Oil Fires.

Two Danish inventors have found a way to put out oil fires by applying carbonic acid that is foaming violently. The foam is produced by a mixture of two liquids, and it is said that when it is thrown on burning substances, such as oils, benzine and tar, it spreads rapidly over the surface and puts out the flames by cutting off the air. Many tanks that contain oil or other highly inflammable liquids are now permanently fitted with perforated pipes, through which the foaming mixture can be applied directly to the surface of the burning material. Hitherto fires in oil tanks have been allowed to burn themselves out or the contents have been drawn out from below and wasted. According to Chambers' Journal many private and government institutions have adopted the new system.

He Meant a Wee Nap, Not a Wee Nip.

After Charles Myers, a Mason (Mo.) barber, had finished up the stranger he raised the chair, and his customers head fell over to one side. The barber straightened him up and shook him a little.

"You were asleep," said Charley.

"So I was—so I was," agreed the gentleman in the chair. "Well, you'll have to come 'round to my place and take one on me."

"I don't drink," returned Charley.

"Neither do I. I'm the new preacher at the First Street church."—New York World.

The second day out "dearie" was experiencing the unreliability of an ocean that was guaranteed to be without variableness or shadow of turning and wondering if "hubbie" could by any human effort obtain a position abroad when "hubbie" entered the statercom.

"It is lunch time, dearie; shall I have yours brought here or will you try to eat it on deck?"

"No, love; have it thrown overboard. It will save time and trouble."

Edith Evans' Heroism.

Among the names which the world loves to honor, in connection with the appalling Titanic disaster, that of Edith Evans should not be forgotten. She was one of a number of women who had taken their places in one of the lifeboats on the doomed liner. When it was about to be lowered, however, it was found that there was one more passenger than could be carried in safety.

Who would be the one to give up the chance of safety was a question that would not have been easily settled if heroic self-forgetfulness had not afforded a solution. This young girl with everything to live for, with a bright future before her, rose to her feet, saying to the woman beside her that she must remain, since she had children at home. She went down with the hundreds of other heroes and heroines, but of them all no name is worthy of more reverent remembrance.

HUSBAND TIRED OF SEEING HER SUFFER

Procured Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which made His Wife a Well Woman.

Middletown, Pa.—"I had headache, backache and such awful bearing down pains that I could not be on my feet at times and I had organic inflammation so badly that I was not able to do my work. I could not get a good meal for my husband and one child. My neighbors said they thought my suffering was terrible.

"My husband got tired of seeing me suffer and one night went to the drug store and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me I must take it. I can't tell you all I suffered and I can't tell you all that your medicine has done for me. I was greatly benefited from the first and it has made me a well woman. I can do all my housework and even helped some of my friends as well. I think it is a wonderful help to all suffering women. I have got several to take it after seeing what it has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA ESPENSHADE, 219 East Main St., Middletown, Pa.

The Pinkham record is a proud and honorable one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of women—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

YELLOW POWDER IN FASHION

Women of France Now Affect Complexion Showing a Suggestion of Sunburn.

This is the day of the yellow complexion in France. Gone is the fashion of the pearl white powder with which the French woman used to cover her face, achieving a peaches and cream effect or more often a chalky and interesting pallor. Now, to be really in the mode, a woman must use a yellow powder which gives the skin a slight suggestion of sunburn, a good healthy look which might have been brought back from the Swiss mountains or the Egyptian deserts.

One sees this yellow powder used everywhere, at the opera and the theater, in the drawing room and in the Bois de Boulogne, while the grisettes and the little ladies of Montmartre and St. Michelle, quick to follow the fashions, are also adopting it. There is much discussion as to how such a fashion started. The favorite explanation is that a certain professional beauty whose skin refused the pearl powder and delicate pink rouge finally resigned herself to using the yellow powder and appearing healthy and sunburned, and she looked so charming that she started the vogue of the yellow skin, which all Paris is following.

BEGAN GREAT CAREERS EARLY

English and American Actresses Who Showed Possession of Genius When They Were Children.

It has been said that seldom do infant stage prodigies fulfill the expectations of the future. As a matter of fact, however, many of our leading actresses began their stage careers when they were children.

Ellen Terry, for instance, made her first appearance in "A Winter's Tale" when she was eight; her sister Kate when she was seven; her niece Beatrice when she was ten, and another niece, Minnie, when she was three; while Marion Terry played Ophelia when she was seventeen. Winifred Emery (Mrs. Cyril Maude) made her first appearance on the stage in "The Green Bushes" when she was eight, and gained her first success when she was seventeen.

Referring to American actresses, one might mention Maud Adams, perhaps one of the most successful of Mr. Frohman's "stars," who first appeared on the stage when she was a baby of nine months old, and was a favorite at the age of sixteen. Julia Marlowe made her first appearance in a juvenile production of "H. M. S. Pinafore" when she was twelve; while Maud Fealy first played when she was three.

SAW THINGS IN A NEW LIGHT

Factory Proprietor Brought to Realize Value of Sanitary Surroundings for His Workpeople.

Scott Nearing tells in his book, Social Religion, about a factory inspector who insisted that the owner of the factory whitewash the inside of the building.

"'Whitewash this factory,' stormed the owner. 'Why, I can't afford it; it will cost me $1,500!'

"'You will obey my order, or I'll swear out a warrant,' said the inspector.

"The building was whitewashed. On his next visit, six months later, the owner greeted the inspector cordially.

"'You remember the row we had about the whitewash?'

"'Yes, indeed.'

"'Well, sir, that $1,500 was the best money I ever laid out. The building hadn't been touched for ten years, and the whitewash makes it look like new. It is wonderfully cheerful and bright—and the girls have done so much better work that I believe I have already got my money back.'"

Mr. Nearing's comment is that every improvement which makes a more livable place pays. It is to be questioned how many employers and owners of buildings would accept this statement. If a large proportion of them would, the first big advance would be made toward real social religion.—Buffalo Express.

His Part in the Affair.

"Your son-in-law has a title." "Yes," replied the patient father; "but I am the one who is furnishing the expensive binding material and the gilt decoration."—Buffalo Commercial.

Developing Great Industry.

The steel entering into the manufacture of automobile wheels during last year amounted to 15,000 tons in this country alone.

Rush to Extremes.

A single man is seldom as good as his sweetheart thinks he is, or a married man as bad as his wife suspects he is.

More Likely.

The girl who thinks no man is good enough for her may be right, but it is more likely that she is merely spoiled.

Sometimes It's Himself.

When a man wears a flower in his buttonhole it indicates some woman is proud of him.—Atchison Globe.

AEROPLANE SAFE AS A SHIP

Frenchman Declared to Have Perfected Invention Which Practically Does Away With Danger.

The Louis Le Grand High school, Paris, France, where President-elect Poincaire was a pupil, recently gave a fete in his honor. A branch of the National Aerial league was inaugurated in the school at the same time, relates a cable dispatch.

Rene Quinton, the president of the league, announced that the automatic stability of the aeroplane can be regarded as having been solved by Moreau's invention, the tests of which had been checked by General Hirschauer, the head of the army aviation department. Moreau, with a passenger, had made a flight of 35 minutes without touching his levers, except for ascending and descending. The wind at the time was blowing 23 feet a second.

Moreau has worked for six years on his invention but has been greatly impeded by his modest resources. He is the father of six children and earns his living by soliciting orders for printing. His invention depends on the pendulum principle. The motor is affixed to the plane itself and the basket containing the pilot is slung below. The wings act as a swing, automatically moving the levers, which act on the planes and correct the effect of sudden gusts and changes in the wind. This secures both lateral and longitudinal stability.

General Hirschauer's attention was attracted to the invention at the last aeronautic salon and he hopes to secure it for the state.

Prolific Penguins.

A penguin oil industry is to be established at Macquarie Island, about half way between Tasmania and the Antarctic continent. This island, 25 miles long and five wide, is estimated to contain probably 80,000,000 penguins, so that the stock seems almost limitless.

More Expensive Than Flowers.

Footelighte—How chesty the tragedian looks today.

Miss Sue Brette—Yes; somebody threw an egg at him last night.

"Well, I should think he'd consider that an insult."

"Insult nothing! Don't you know how high eggs are!"

Good Helpmate.

Mrs Yeast—So your friend is married at last. Is his wife a good helpmate?

Mr. Yeast—I should say so. Why, this summer I saw her dragging the garden hose all over the place for him!

A Porch Shade

that is the Next Thing to Real Foliage

We have secured the exclusive agency for the "Aerolux" Shade, the newest porch protection from sun, wind and rain. It is of specially prepared wood in various shades, chiefly of greens and browns. This gives a cool effect. The wood is treated in much the same way as a modern railroad timber, which makes it absolutely weatherproof and of unlimited durability.

A special feature that belongs exclusively to this shade is the "No Whip" attachment by which the shade is held rigid from the bottom, eliminating the annoying flapping in the breeze. "Aerolux" Shades are equal to any, and in this feature are superior to all.

They are especially suitable for Sleeping Porches, because of the protection they give from the weather. A porch may be equipped for from $3.00 to $12.00, an insignificant expenditure for the many years' use afforded. "Aerolux" Shades may be had in these sizes:

Graded sizes from 4 ft. x 7 ft. 6 in. at $2.50 to 10 ft. x 7 ft. at $8.50. With wide or narrow slats.

PROUD OF HIS SELF-CONTROL

Mrs. Brown Could Agree With Her Liege Lord, Too, That It Was Something Uncommon.

Mr. Brown was excitable by nature, but he often prided himself audibly upon his self-control. One night while the family were gathered at the tea table the chimney began to roar; the furnace draft had been opened and forgotten. Straightway a panic ensued.

"Don't lose your heads—keep cool!" cried Mr. Brown. "It's nothing serious."

He dashed up the stairs, discovered that the metal cap over the only unused stovepipe hole was already red hot, and dashed down again faster than he went up.

"K-keep cool!" he gasped, as he passed through the room where the family had gathered in nervous apprehension. "I'll be back in a minute."

He was back in less than that time, having observed that the flames were spouting several feet high from the chimney, and that a shower of sparks was falling upon the roof.

"Wh-where's the step-ladder?" he panted.

He was gone before anyone could answer the question, and presently was heard bellowing from the roof of the woodshed. He presented an heroic figure in the glare of the blazing chimney.

"I've got one end of the hose!" he called. "Some one attach the other end and turn on the water—quick!"

Two long minutes passed.

"Why doesn't some one do as I ordered?" he thundered. "Do you want the place to burn up?"

"We can't, Henry!" called Mrs. Brown, tremblingly. "You haven't got the hose—you've got the cow-rope. It was hanging next to the hose in the shed. And anyway, the roof is covered with ice, and I don't think there's any great danger outside. You'd better go and watch the chimney from the inside."

A half-hour later the family were again at the tea table.

"If this had happened in some homes," remarked Mr. Brown, "the family would have lost their heads completely and sent in an alarm. Self-control is an excellent thing—and far from common."

"Indeed it is!" agreed Mrs. Brown, emphatically.—Youth's Companion.

BASEBALL FOR THE FARMER

Possibly the Game Might Be of Benefit to Him. But It Is Hardly Indispensable.

Baseball never has been regarded exclusively as a city product. While it is true that the cities supply the enormous crowds that support the big leagues, it is equally true that many of the players in those leagues are graduates of the "bush" leagues. The country boy has an equal chance with the city boy to win the high honors and generous emoluments of a successful ball player. The farmer himself has not come directly in touch with the national game, perhaps, except on a rare holiday. A professor in the Kansas State Agricultural college calls this a mistake. Familiarity with the game, he believes, would promote success in agriculture. If the farmer would play ball "it would take the shamble out of his walk" and "make him decide quickly." This is an interesting theory, but it will not be universally accepted. Some will contend that the motor car has already taken the "shamble" out of the farmer's walk. Others will insist that handling a high spirited horse or pitching a load of hay on a wagon while a thunderstorm is gathering is just as valuable in training his mental faculties to quick action.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Rose Culture in Bulgaria.

White and red roses are grown, the former being easier to cultivate, but giving only about half as much oil of an inferior quality. The individual growers distil their own oil. Twelve to fifteen kilos of roses are distilled with 60 kilos of water until 12 kilos of distillate are obtained; eight to ten such lots are then united, and redistilled into long necked flasks, in which the oil separates on standing. To produce one kilo of oil requires 3,000 kilos of roses of 1,200,000 flowers. The roses are gathered in the early morning and distilled the same day. The pure oil from the various districts shows variations in odor and physical properties, and is therefore skillfully blended by the distributing houses before sale. Adulteration is very largely carried on by the peasants, who use ginger grass oil, palma rosa oil, geranium oil, etc. The production for 1910 was 3,143 kilos.—The Pharmaceutical Era.

We Are Creatures of Habit.

There was no rush at the moment and the ticket chopper had time to talk to the man waiting for a friend in a subway station. "Yes, we see lots of queer people here," he said, "and we have nearly the same people every day and at the same hour. I know men who do not vary a minute in a week in their reaching the ticket box. The queerest man we have at this station we call 'the whistler.' Every morning at 7:20 he drops his ticket in the box and he always whistles. That wouldn't be so funny, but for years it has always been the same tune. We all know the tune, but no one knows the song. His ticket goes in the box at the same note every morning, and then he walks to the third post, opens his paper and whistles till the train comes."—New York Tribune.

ORGANIST ECKER TESTS ORGAN

Noted Pittsburg Musician Here---Pronounces Instrument Good One

Henry P. Ecker, who for 14 years held the high position of city organist of the city of Pittsburg, playing at Carnegie Music hall, visited Charleroi Wednesday afternoon and gave Charleroi's first pipe organ, the one just installed at St. Jerome's Catholic church, its first tryout. Mr. Ecker rendered a beautiful program to the manifest gratification of a small audience consisting of Rev. W. D. Fries, pastor of the church, a few friends, builders of the organ and workmen at the church.

The purpose of having Mr. Ecker come was to have him test the organ and offer suggestions if he had any for its improvement. He pronounced the organ a particularly fine one, and proved he knew what he was saying.

Mr. Ecker's program was entirely improvised. However it included selections from some of the most noted compositors. He must be of German descent, for continually he was striking into some of the Wagnerian Lohengrin music. Showing a particular and peculiar fondness for the theme containing the beautiful Lohengrin wedding march he broke into its strains time and time again, while the musically inclined of his small audience smiled and enjoyed it.

Mr. Ecker is one of the best organists in the land. He studied in Paris under the expert tutlage of Widor ,the noted musician and composer. That the organ in St Jerome's church is a good one he is satisfied, and he complimented both the builders on its thoroughness of construction and the local man, W. J. Bramlage, who drew its specifications and plans and who saw to the proper location of the instrument.

LAW IS COSTLY ACCORDING TO PENNSY SYSTEM

Compilation has been made by the Pennsylvania Railroad of the probable cost to this company of the recently enacted legislation governing railroad operation in the States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. In Pennsylvania, the Extra Crew Law costs the Pennsylvania Railroad $555,085 and the semi-monthly pay bill will cost $275,000 per year. In New York the Extra Crew Law will cost $101,160 per year. In New Jersey, the Grade Crossing Bill, if literally enforced, would cost the Pennsylvania Railroad over $60,000,000. But aside from that semi-monthly pay bill in that State costs $30,000, the Extra Crew Law $219,840, and the drinking water law $18,000 per year.

Thus the enacted legislation in these three states, excluding the New Jersey Grade Crossing Bill, will cost the Pennsylvania Railroad Company $1,199,085 every year. This sum represents the annual return at five per cent upon nearly $24,000,000 of capital. The total expenditures by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company incurred on account of new laws—federal and state—governing railroad affairs from August 1, 1906 to January 1, 1913, was $10,936,134.

MAY DAY IS OBSERVED AT THE NORMAL

The annual May day exercises were held at the California Normal school Wednesday. Miss Mary Hickman, of Uniontown, was "Queen of May" and was crowned with fitting ceremony by Miss Grace McCleary, of California. The queen was attended by eight maids of honor and following her coronation made a short speech. The next feature on the program was a drill by the pupils of the eight grade and the forming of a floral arch by the members of the senior class of the Normal, which was one of the prettiest exercises of the afternoon.

A band concert was held on the campus of the Normal school in the evening. The lawn was lighted by many Japanese lanterns strung along the walks and on trees. A big crowd was in attendance both afternoon and evening.

SECOND DEGREE THE VERDICT IN MURDER CASE.

Not less than seven years or more than 20 years in the Western Penitentiary at Riverside was the sentence imposed by Judge R. S. Holt Wednesday upon Harry Musconey, who had been found guilty of murder in the second degree.

Musconey had been indicted for the killing of Bett Quill, alias Bert Quillo, at West Zollarsville, on the night of December 22, 1912. Musconey and Quill had had some words at the home of Mrs. Johanna Justuat. Later the two men left the house and a short time afterwards Quill staggered in the door and remarked, "Well he shot me." Musconey was apprehended after a two days' chase at Bentleyville. The commonwealth's testimony tended to show that Musconey shot Quill without provocation, that Quill had no gun, and had just made some remark to Musconey, when Musconey pulled his gun and fired the fatal shot.

SECOND DEGREE MURDER VERDICT RETURNED TODAY FOR NOAH HOUGH

Monessen Man Who Killed Policeman Hears Report of Jury and Says Nothing

MEANS PEN SENTENCE

Five to Twenty Years Imprisonment is the Limit---Members of Monessen Council Attend Court

A verdict of murder in the second degree was returned this morning at 9:30 o'clock in the case against Noah Hough of Monessen, accused of shooting and killing Policeman Michael Entinger at Wireton March 8.

Sentence was not imposed at once although Hough, calm and unemotional, was in the court room. The accused man made no comment on the verdict.

The trial which resulted in Hough's conviction started on Monday afternoon at about 2:30 o'clock, and continued until Wednesday afternoon late, when the case was given to the jury. The jury was out all night.

Hough shot Acting Chief of Police Entinger when the latter was conducting a raid on a disorderly Wireton house. The shooting occurred at the house of a woman known as Mother Dudgeon. This woman last week was found guilty at Greensburg of keeping a bawdy house

At the time of the shooting Hough was under bond on a charge of maintaining a bawdy house. He had been indicted with others of which Mother Dudgeon was one. After the killing of the policeman he was arrested near Scottdale by Fred J. Ames, a member of the state constabulary.

The second degree verdict will mean a sentence of from five to 20 years. It will be imposed shortly by the court. Members of council and the members of the Monessen police force took an active hand in the rounding up of evidence. Members of council attended court this week.

Miss Small received a number of beautiful presents.

RECOVER BODY FROM THE CINCINNATI MINE

Another body was recovered this morning from the interior of the Cincinnati mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company at Courtney by workmen in the mine. The number to date is 97 Ninety-six bodies were found within a few days after the disaster.

STRIKE ALL OFF AT THE DIAMOND MINE

Men Go Back to Work After Operations Have Been Suspended for Three Weeks---Affairs Discussed at Meeting

The strike at the Diamond mine of the Diamond Coal company at West Brownsville has been settled by the men going back to work. The strike was declared three weeks ago.

Ostensibly the miners struck to secure the reinstatement of the mine foreman. Really it is declared they quit as a means of protest against the superintendent, demanding his removal.

Their strike was not sanctioned by the national organization, being the action merely of their own local. After discussing their predicament at a meeting held on Tuesday they determined to go back to work and Wednesday the day men returned to their duties.

TRYING CONSTABLES FOR FATAL SHOOTING

Trial Into Case of Killing of Supposed Demented Man Now Under Way at Washington--Bentleyville Occurrence

Constable W. E. Eppley of Bentleyville and James Applegate were arraigned for trial before Judge J. A. McIlvaine Wednesday afternoon on the charge of manslaughter for the shooting of Simon Povojassek in a barn near Bentleyville April 19. The wounded man died the following day.

Povojassek was a Russian 29 years old and is thought to have been demented. He was armed with an axe and roamed around the neighborhood the women and children being much frightened by his actions.

Henry Scott swore out a warrant for his arrest and Constable Eppley deputized Applegate to assist in the arrest. Povojassek took refuge in Scott's barn and when the officers attempted to enter he used pitchforks as javelins and kept them at bay.

Applegate fired one shot and a sound as of the man shuffling around on the floor followed. An investigation showed Povojassek had been wounded mortally, the ball having gone through his head.

READY TO DEDICATE ON JUNE 8

Plans Laid for St. Jerome's Church Event

BISHOP WILL BE HERE

Announcement was made today by Rev. W. D. Fries, pastor of St. Jerome's Catholic church, that the dedication of the new church at the corner of Washington avenue and Seventh street will take place on Sunday June 8. Right Rev. J. Regis Canevin, bishop of the Pittsburg diocese, will be here and will preach the dedicatory sermon. The magnificent pipe organ installed within the last few days and tested finally Wednesday will be used for the first time in a church service.

The entire program has not been made up for the events of dedication but it is probable that Rev Robert McDonald, of McKeesport, who was the first pastor of St. Jerome's church, will have a distinct part as well as Rev T. A. Connors, of Hazelwood and Rev. O. J. Kirby of the Pittsburg cathedral, both former assistant pastors. Rev. B. N. Avmacher, the assistant rector at St. Jerome's will be the master of ceremonies.

The dedicatory services will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. At 10:30 high mass will be celebrated.

Work on the interior of the church is going on a pace. Pews are now being installed. This week a beautiful new window on the south end of the church was installed. This window is patterned after some of the most beautiful windows of the most noted churches in the world. It is of a design descriptive of the mediaeval age.

Telephone and Electric Lines Suffer From Pourdown Wednesday Night

Some damage was done to electric and telephone lines by the severe storm which raged through this section Wednesday evening at about 9 o'clock. The Bell telephone system suffered onside ab'y in the valley, though at the various exchanges they experienced comparatively little trouble. The Charleroi Telephone company had a number of lines knocked out. The West Penn Electric company suffered to some extent.

ACTION IS PROMISED ON BILLS

Buried Measures to be Resurrected From Committees

NO ADJOURNMENT DATE

Harrisburg, May 23—Whether or not the progresive election bills will all be passed at the session is not at all clear, but if any of them fails the responsibility will be up to the individual senators. Under the pressure of public sentiment Senator Jim McNichol, who has thus far controlled and dictated the senate, has agreed to let the measures be reported out of the committee, where it was intended to let them die, and all the election measures will be reported out of the committee Monday night. These will be fought out on the floor and the success or failure of them will be due to the individual senators.

It is stated that the program of McNichol is to emasculate the non-partisan ballot bill, which is one of Governor Tener's measures, so as to provide, only for the nomination and election of judges on the non-partisan plan. The State-wide preferential primary is to be passed "as an evidence of good faith to the people," and the Flinn party enrollment measure is to be passed as it came from the house the remainder of the election bills passed by the house to be defeated.

There may also be a fight to get the resolution out of the senate committee to provide for the submission to the people the question of holding a constitutional convention. McNichol is determined that the people shall not determine this question themselves, as he evidently intends to settle that himself. The Progressives and Independents in the senate announce that if the bills are not reported out of the "pickling" committee they will move to discharge that committee.

SICK BUT SHORT TIME

Had Been Making Regular Rounds--Family at Pittsburg is Notified

Half reclining, half sitting on the bed L. R. Hawes, aged about 60 years, a traveling man of Pittsburg was found dead in his room at the Charleroi hotel this morning. He was discovered at about 8 o'clock by hotel attaches, and from evidences had been dead for some hours.

Mr. Hawes came here Monday representing the Pittsburg Hardwood Door company of Pittsburg. He was out and about on Tuesday, but on Wednesday was not seen. At 9 o'clock he asked for an osteopath and Dr. C. C Wright was called. When the doctor left Mr. Hawes was in bed and resting easy, having been given treatment.

During the night he evidentally struggled into a sitting position on the edge of the bed Then he fell backward dead. When found his feet were resting on the floor. Kidney trouble is believed to have been the cause of his sudden death.

The body was removed this morning to the mortuary of M. T. Crowley and Coroner James T. Heffran was notified. Investigation proved that the widow of Mr. Hawes lives on Atwood street, Pittsburg. A sister lives in Iron Mountain, Wis., and another close relative is a resident of El Paso, Tex

The Pittsburg Hardwood Door company was telephoned this morning concerning his death. It was stated at the office there that Mr. Hawes had complained last week of illness, but it was not generally thought at the time that it was anything serious. His order book showed that the last order had been taken at Monongahela on Monday of this week.

From cards in his pocket it was ascertained that Mr. Hawes was a member in good standing of Columbus Council No. 1 of the United Commercial Travelers association.

LEAVES TO JOIN FIANCE IN WEST

Miss Ella Small, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Small of Fallowfield avenue left today for Portland, Ore., where she will join her fiance, William McCreery, of Portland. They will be married in the Oregon city, and will live there. Mr. McCreery was formerly a resident of Wilkinsburg. Miss Small is a well known young woman.

Mrs. N. Greenberg is spending the day in Pittsburg.

Thus far no date for adjournment has been agreed upon. That has been the game of the senate—to get a date for adjournment, and then play for delay on the measures they want killed.

A TIMELY GATHERING.

The meeting of the Farmer's Annual Institute and State Board of Agriculture at Washington this week is a most timely gathering. Amore and better farming is one of the most essential economic problems of the age for this country, the institute will add to the concerted efforts that both the state and nation are making to increase the agricultural products of this country. Every locality is amenable to improvement along this line, and the promotion of more and better farming is a vital local as well as national issue

When it is shown by national statistics that the population of the United States has increased twenty-one per cent, within a specified time, while the increase in agricultural products for the same time is but eleven per cent, we can readily see that "more is going out than is coming in." When agricultural production does not keep pace with consumption, scarcity and high prices cannot help but prevail. Add to this the waste and extravagance of inadequate distribution and the result cannot be otherwise than rapidly increased cost of the necessaries of life to the consumer.

That the issue is local, is evidenced by the information elicited in consequence of the meeting at Washington that there are 23,000 less acres now being farmed in Washington county than there were ten years ago. This is not nearly all the idle and unproductive land in the county, but the amount is sufficient to furnish a striking example of the terrific economic waste that is going on around us all the time. If this land were in a high state of cultivation the products would find a ready market right within the county's limits, thus eliminating the cost of packing and shipment. This non-productive land is equivalent to a factory suddenly thrown idle that formerly employed between 2,000 and 3,000 men. Apply this ratio to every county in the state and you realize what a gigantic waste of resources is everywhere in progress in this state alone.

GOOD ROADS AND FARMING

Following the recent publication of the Good Roads Year Book, which presents the road situation in the United States to date, the American Highway Association has begun the issuance of a series of instructive phases of road improvement from the standpoint of both the layman and the engineer, says the Harrisburg Telegraph.

Among the first to be issued is a reprint of the address of W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway, at the recent American Road Congress, on "Good Roads and the Cost of Living." Mr. Finley holds economic question and that efforts should be turned toward increasing the area of farm land under cultivation and increasing the yield of farm products per acre He points to the well-known fact that prospective farm settlers are largely governed by [illegible] and that when these are not adequate farm operations are discouraged

"Increasing farm products by getting more people onto the land and by bringing a large area under more intense cultivation is largely a matter of transportation," said Mr. Finley.

The American Highway Association is composed of upward of 2,000 the leading men and women of the nation and is conducting a great campaign of good roads education and reform throughout the United States. It is doing a great and unselfish work and its publications, if they are all as practical as those just issued, should have a wide circulation in Pennsylvania, where we are just now in the midst of a great good road campaign in which certain misdirected people are striving to defeat the gigantic step forward planned for the rural communities of Pennsylvania under the proposed highway loan.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Contrary to the general belief the period of suicides is in the spring and summer time instead of the winter," said a traveling man a day or two ago, when the question of self-destruction was a matter of discussion. "Happening in Philadelphia last week I dropped into a small pharmacy where I usually buy cigars when in that city. Following me into the store was a girl about 16 or 17 years old. She asked for a poison which the druggist refused. Unconcerned he turned to me and said;

"'We can't take the chance. During May and June,' he continued, 'we find that the wave of suicides by poison is at its height. In most cases the self-destruction is confined to girls about 16 or 17 years old, or those at the sentimental age of less than [illegible] have been in the business here for years, and this statement is the result of long experience and study.'

"'Do you ever sell poison to girls you do not know?' I asked.

"'Oh, yes,' the druggist replied, 'but at this season of the year we [illegible] this year, and you'll find that I am right.'

"Since my Philadelphia friend made the statement I have had it confirmed by other druggists along my route," said the traveling man. "These tell me that the suicides by poison in the spring and summer than in the fall and winter when one would naturally think the outlook was more discouraging."

RESTORED INN OF AUERBACH

Tavern Where Goethe Placed One of Scenes in "Faust" Has Been Reconstructed.

The latest concrete evidence of literary devotion in Germany is the thorough reconstruction of the "Tavern of Auerbach," where Goethe placed one of the most vivid scenes of "Faust." It is melancholy to reflect that nothing more remains of the old building, since after a complete demolition the architects have constructed a wholly modern building on the site, but care has been taken to preserve intact the cellar, which has been for fully a century an object of pilgrimage for Germans, who are at once proud of their literature and fond of recherche drinking.

Painters of an "advanced" school have been commissioned to adorn the walls of the various dining rooms with scenes taken from Goethe's great drama, while to complete the new attractions it is announced that the staircase leading down to the cellar will be furnished with two bronze statues, the [illegible] known. The evolution of the "Tavern of Auerbach" promises to be the same as that of other like sacred places. It will probably bring in an excellent income to the restaurateur.

ENGLISH WOMEN RUN FARMS

Through Co-Operation Special Provision Is Made for Them in Some Sections.

Seventy-five enthusiastic women farmers met recently at the Criterion restaurant, the occasion being the fifth annual dinner of the Women's International union. Mrs. Wilton Alihusen presided.

Miss Emerson maintained that women have not the same facilities, capital, and so forth, as men.

"The remedy," she said, "lies in co-operation. A company has obtained a farm at Heathfield, in Sussex, and has divided it into small holdings for women farmers. Bungalows are provided for the tenants, whose agreements secure fixity of tenure and who have perfect liberty in developing their land as they like. At the same time they have the benefit of expert advice. The company markets all the produce, and is able to obtain better terms than could the individual tenants."—London Mail.

Ozone as a Preservative.

An important improvement in the technique of cold storage has recently been introduced in Germany, viz., the use of ozone as a supplement to the ordinary process of refrigeration. In the cold storage rooms attached to slaughter houses the temperature of the air is liable to be raised to a serious extent when the doors are left open for any reason; for instance, when meat is being put in or taken out. The micro-organisms of putrefaction immediately become active under such circumstances, and the keeping quality of the meat is diminished. Now it is well known that ozone is a powerful germicide. If the air of the cold-storage rooms is ozonized, its temperature may be raised without injury to the contents. This has been proved by numerous experiments, and ozonizing apparatus has now been installed in the abatoirs at Cologne, Potsdam, Brandenburg, Berlin, Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Dusseldorf, Freiburg (Silesia), Aix-la-Chapelle and Erfurt; in a cold storage depot at Hamburg, and in various dairies, poultry and game stores and fish establishments.

To Put Out Oil Fires.

Two Danish inventors have found a way to put out oil fires by applying carbonic acid that is foaming violently. The foam is produced by a mixture of two liquids, and it is said that when it is thrown on burning substances, such as oils, benzine and tar, it spreads rapidly over the surface and puts out the flames by cutting off the air. Many tanks that contain oil or other highly inflammable liquids are now permanently fitted with perforated pipes, through which the foaming mixture can be applied directly to the surface of the burning material. Hitherto fires in oil tanks have been allowed to burn themselves out or the contents have been drawn out from below and wasted. According to Chambers' Journal many private and government institutions have adopted the new system.

After Charles Myers, a Mason (Mo.) barber, had finished up the stranger he raised the chair, and his customers head fell over to one side. The barber straightened him up and shook him a little.

"You were asleep," said Charley.

"I don't drink," returned Charley.

"Neither do I. I'm the new preacher at the First Street church."—New York World.

The second day out "dearie" was experiencing the unreliability of an ocean that was guaranteed to be without variableness or shadow of turning and wondering if "hubbie" could by any human effort obtain a position abroad when "hubbie" entered the stateroom.

"It is lunch time, dearie; shall I have yours brought here or will you try to eat it on deck?"

"No, love; have it thrown overboard. It will save time and trouble."

Edith Evans' Heroism.

Among the names which the world loves to honor, in connection with the appalling Titanic disaster, that of Edith Evans should not be forgotten. She was one of a number of women who had taken their places in one of the lifeboats on the doomed liner. When it was about to be lowered, however, it was found that there was one more passenger than could be carried in safety

Who would be the one to give up the chance of safety was a question that would not have been easily settled if heroic self-forgetfulness had not afforded a solution. This young girl with everything to live for, with a bright future before her rose to her feet, saying to the woman beside her that she must remain, since she had children at home. She went down with the hundreds of other heroes and heroines, but of them all no name is worthy of more reverent remembrance.

HUSBAND TIRED OF SEEING HER SUFFER

Procured Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which made His Wife a Well Woman.

Middletown, Pa.—"I had headache, backache and such awful bearing down pains that I could not be on my feet at times and I had organic inflammation so badly that I was not able to do my work. I could not get a good meal for my husband and one child. My neighbors said they thought my suffering was terrible.

"My husband got tired of seeing me suffer and one night went to the drug store and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me I must take it. I can't tell you all I suffered and I can't tell you all that your medicine has done for me. I was greatly benefited from the first and it has made me a well woman. I can do all my housework and even helped some of my friends as well. I think it is a wonderful help to all suffering women. I have got several to take it after seeing what it has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA ESPENSHADE, 219 East Main St., Middletown, Pa.

The Pinkham record is a proud and honorable one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of women—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

YELLOW POWDER IN FASHION

Women of France Now Affect Complexion Showing a Suggestion of Sunburn.

This is the day of the yellow complexion in France. Gone is the fashion of the pearl white powder with which the French woman used to cover her face, achieving a peaches and cream effect or more often a chalky and interesting pallor. Now, to be really in the mode, a woman must use a yellow powder which gives the skin a slight suggestion of sunburn, a good healthy look which might have been brought back from the Swiss mountains or the Egyptian deserts.

One sees this yellow powder used everywhere, at the opera and the theater, in the drawing room and in the Bois de Boulogne, while the grisettes and the little ladies of Montmartre and St. Michelle, quick to follow the fashions, are also adopting it. There is much discussion as to how such a fashion started. The favorite explanation is that a certain professional beauty whose skin refused the pearl powder and delicate pink rouge finally resigned herself to using the yellow powder and appearing healthy and sunburned, and she looked so charming that she started the vogue of the yellow skin, which all Paris is following.

BEGAN GREAT CAREERS EARLY

English and American Actresses Who Showed Possession of Genius When They Were Children.

It has been said that seldom do infant stage prodigies fulfill the expectations of the future. As a matter of fact, however, many of our leading actresses began their stage careers when they were children.

Ellen Terry, for instance, made her first appearance in "A Winter's Tale" when she was eight; her sister Kate when she was seven; her niece Beatrice when she was ten, and another niece, Minnie, when she was three; while Marion Terry played Ophelia when she was seventeen. Winifred Emery (Mrs. Cyril Maude) made her first appearance on the stage in "The Green Bushes" when she was eight, and gained her first success when she was seventeen.

Referring to American actresses, one might mention Maud Adams, perhaps one of the most successful of Mr. Frohman's "stars," who first appeared on the stage when she was a baby of nine months old, and was a favorite at the age of sixteen. Julia Marlowe made her first appearance in a juvenile production of "H. M. S. Pinafore" when she was twelve; while Maud Fealy first played when she was three.

SAW THINGS IN A NEW LIGHT

Factory Proprietor Brought to Realize Value of Sanitary Surroundings for His Workpeople.

Scott Nearing tells in his book, Social Religion, about a factory inspector who insisted that the owner of the factory whitewash the inside of the building.

"'Whitewash this factory,' stormed the owner. 'Why, I can't afford it; it will cost me $1,500!'

"'You will obey my order, or I'll swear out a warrant,' said the inspector.

"The building was whitewashed. On his next visit, six months later, the owner greeted the inspector cordially.

"'You remember the row we had about the whitewash?'

"'Yes, indeed.'

"'Well, sir, that $1,500 was the best money I ever laid out. The building hadn't been touched for ten years, and the whitewash makes it look like new. It is wonderfully cheerful and bright—and the girls have done so much better work that I believe I have already got my money back.'"

Mr. Nearing's comment is that every improvement which makes a more livable place pays. It is to be questioned how many employers and owners of buildings would accept this statement. If a large proportion of them would, the first big advance would be made toward real social religion.—Buffalo Express.

AEROPLANE SAFE AS A SHIP

Frenchman Declared to Have Perfected Invention Which Practically Does Away With Danger.

The Louis Le Grand High school, Paris, France, where President-elect Poincaire was a pupil, recently gave a fete in his honor. A branch of the National Aerial league was inaugurated in the school at the same time, relates a cable dispatch.

Rene Quinton, the president of the league, announced that the automatic stability of the aeroplane can be regarded as having been solved by Moreau's invention, the tests of which had been checked by General Hirschauer, the head of the army aviation department. Moreau, with a passenger, had made a flight of 35 minutes without touching his levers, except for ascending and descending. The wind at the time was blowing 23 feet a second.

Moreau has worked for six years on his invention but has been greatly impeded by his modest resources. He is the father of six children and earns his living by soliciting orders for printing. His invention depends on the pendulum principle. The motor is affixed to the plane itself and the basket containing the pilot is slung below. The wings act as a swing, automatically moving the levers, which act on the planes and correct the effect of sudden gusts and changes in the wind. This secures both lateral and longitudinal stability.

General Hirschauer's attention was attracted to the invention at the last aeronautic salon and he hopes to secure it for the state.

Prolific Penguins.

A penguin oil industry is to be established at Macquarie Island, about half way between Tasmania and the Antarctic continent. This island, 25 miles long and five wide, is estimated to contain probably 80,000,000 penguins, so that the stock seems almost limitless.

More Expensive Than Flowers.

Footelighte—How chesty the tragedian looks today.

Miss Sue Brette—Yes; somebody threw an egg at him last night.

"Well, I should think he'd consider that an insult."

"Insult nothing! Don't you know how high eggs are!"

Good Helpmate.

Mrs Yeast—So your friend is married at last. Is his wife a good helpmate?

Mr. Yeast—I should say so. Why, this summer I saw her dragging the garden hose all over the place for him!

A Porch Shade

that is the Next Thing to Real Foliage

We have secured the exclusive agency for the "Aerolux" Shade, the newest porch protection from sun, wind and rain. It is of specially prepared wood in various shades, chiefly of greens and browns. This gives a cool effect. The wood is treated in much the same way as a modern railroad timber, which makes it absolutely weatherproof and of unlimited durability.

A special feature that belongs exclusively to this shade is the "No Whip" attachment by which the shade is held rigid from the bottom, eliminating the annoying flapping in the breeze. "Aerolux" Shades are equal to any, and in this feature are superior to all.

We are specially suited to furnish Porches, because of the protection they give from the weather. A porch may be equipped for from $8.00 to $12.00, an insignificant expenditure for the many years' use afforded. "Aerolux" Shades may be had in these sizes:

Graded sizes from 4 ft. x 7 ft. 6 in. at $2.50 to 10 ft. x 7 ft. at $8.50. With wide or narrow slats.

PROUD OF HIS SELF-CONTROL

Mrs. Brown Could Agree With Her Liege Lord, Too, That It Was Something Uncommon.

Mr. Brown was excitable by nature, but he often prided himself audibly upon his self-control. One night while the family were gathered at the tea table the chimney began to roar; the furnace draft had been opened and forgotten. Straightway a panic ensued.

"Don't lose your heads—keep cool!" cried Mr. Brown. "It's nothing serious."

He dashed up the stairs, discovered that the metal cap over the only unused stovepipe hole was already red hot, and dashed down again faster than he went up.

"K-keep cool!" he gasped, as he passed through the room where the family had gathered in nervous apprehension. "I'll be back in a minute."

He was back in less than that time, having observed that the flames were spouting several feet high from the chimney, and that a shower of sparks was falling upon the roof.

"Wh-where's the step-ladder?" he panted.

He was gone before anyone could answer the question, and presently was heard bellowing from the roof of the woodshed. He presented an heroic figure in the glare of the blazing chimney.

"I've got one end of the hose!" he called. "Some one attach the other end and turn on the water—quick!"

Two long minutes passed.

"Why doesn't some one do as I ordered?" he thundered. "Do you want the place to burn up?"

"We can't, Henry!" called Mrs. Brown, tremblingly. "You haven't got the hose—you've got the cow-rope. It was hanging next to the hose in the shed. And anyway, the roof is covered with ice, and I don't think there's any great danger outside. You'd better go and watch the chimney from the inside."

A half-hour later the family were again at the tea table.

"If this had happened in some homes," remarked Mr. Brown, "the family would have lost their heads completely and sent in an alarm. Self-control is an excellent thing—and far from common."

"Indeed it is!" agreed Mrs. Brown, emphatically.—Youth's Companion.

BASEBALL FOR THE FARMER

Possibly the Game Might Be of Benefit to Him, But It Is Hardly Indispensable.

Baseball never has been regarded exclusively as a city product. While it is true that the cities supply the enormous crowds that support the big leagues, it is equally true that many of the players in those leagues are graduates of the "bush" leagues. The country boy has an equal chance with the city boy to win the high honors and generous emoluments of a successful ball player. The farmer himself has not come directly in touch with the national game, perhaps, except on a rare holiday. A professor in the Kansas State Agricultural college calls this a mistake. Familiarity with the game, he believes, would promote success in agriculture. If the farmer would play ball "it would take the shamble out of his walk" and "make him decide quickly." This is an interesting theory, but it will not be universally accepted. Some will contend that the motor car has already taken the "shamble" out of the farmer's walk. Others will insist that handling a high spirited horse or pitching a load of hay on a wagon while a thunderstorm is gathering is just as valuable in training his mental faculties to quick action.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Rose Culture in Bulgaria.

White and red roses are grown, the former being easier to cultivate, but giving only about half as much oil of an inferior quality. The individual growers distil their own oil. Twelve to fifteen kilos of roses are distilled with 60 kilos of water until 12 kilos of distillate are obtained; eight to ten such lots are then united, and redistilled into long necked flasks, in which the oil separates on standing. To produce one kilo of oil requires 3,000 kilos of roses of 1,200,000 flowers. The roses are gathered in the early morning and distilled the same day. The pure oil from the various districts shows variations in odor and physical properties, and is therefore skillfully blended by the distributing houses before sale. Adulteration is very largely carried on by the peasants, who use ginger grass oil, palma rosa oil, geranium oil, etc. The production for 1910 was 3,148 kilos.—The Pharmaceutical Era.

We Are Creatures of Habit.

There was no rush at the moment and the ticket chopper had time to talk to the man waiting for a friend in a subway station. "Yes, we see lots of queer people here," he said, "and we have nearly the same people every day and at the same hour. I know men who do not vary a minute in a week in their reaching the ticket [illegible]. The queerest man we have at this station we call 'the whistler.' Every morning at 7:20 he drops his ticket in the box and he always whistles. That wouldn't be so funny, but for years it has always been the same tune. We all know the tune, but no one knows the song. His ticket goes in the box at the same note every morning, and then he walks to the third post, opens his paper and whistles till the train comes."—New York Tribune.

ORGANIST ECKER TESTS ORGAN

Noted Pittsburg Musician Here---Pronounces Instrument Good One

Henry P. Ecker, who for 14 years held the high position of city organist of the city of Pittsburg, playing at Carnegie Music hall, visited Charleroi Wednesday afternoon and gave Charleroi's first pipe organ, the one just installed at St. Jerome's Catholic church, its first tryout. Mr. Ecker rendered a beautiful program to the manifest gratification of a small audience consisting of Rev. W. D. Fries, pastor of the church, a few friends, builders of the organ and workmen at the church.

The [illegible] come was to have him test the organ and offer suggestions if he had any for its improvement. He pronounced the organ a particularly fine one, and proved he knew what he was saying.

Mr. Ecker's program was entirely improvised. However it included selections from some of the most noted compositors. He must be of German descent, for continually he was striking into some of the Wagnerian Lohengrin music. Showing a particular and peculiar fondness for the theme containing the beautiful Lohengrin wedding march he broke into its strains time and time again, while the musically inclined of his small audience smiled and enjoyed it.

Mr. Ecker is one of the best organists in the land. He studied in Paris under the expert tutiage of Widor the noted musician and composer. That the organ in St. Jerome's church is a good one he is satisfied, and he complimented both the builders on its thoroughness of construction and the local man, W. J. Bramlage, who drew its specifications and plans and who saw to the proper location of the instrument.

LAW IS COSTLY ACCORDING TO PENNSY SYSTEM

Compilation has been made by the Pennsylvania Railroad of the probable cost to this company of the recently enacted legislation governing railroad operation in the States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. In Pennsylvania, the Extra Crew Law costs the Pennsylvania Railroad $555.085 and the semi-monthly pay bill will cost $275,000 per year. In New York the Extra Crew Law will cost $101,160 per year. In New Jersey, the Grade Crossing Bill, if literally enforced, would cost the Pennsylvania Railroad over $60,000,000. But aside from that semi-monthly pay bill in that State costs $30,000, the Extra Crew Law $219,840, and the drinking water law $18,000 per year.

Thus the enacted legislation in these three states, excluding the New Jersey Grade Crossing Bill, will cost the Pennsylvania Railroad Company $1,199,085 every year. This sum represents the annual return at five per cent upon nearly $24,000,000 of capital. The total expenditures by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company incurred on account of new laws—federal and state—governing railroad affairs from August 1, 1906 to January 1, 1913, was $10,936,134.

MAY DAY IS OBSERVED AT THE NORMAL

The annual May day exercises were held at the California Normal school Wednesday. Miss Mary Hickman, of Uniontown, was "Queen of May" and was crowned with fitting ceremony by Miss Grace McCleary, of California. The queen was attended by eight maids of honor and following her coronation made a short speech. The next feature on the program was a drill by the pupils of the eight grade and the forming of a floral arch by the members of the senior class of the Normal, which was one of the prettiest exercises of the afternoon.

A band concert was held on the campus of the Normal school in the evening. The lawn was lighted by many Japanese lanterns strung along the walks and on trees. A big crowd was in attendance both afternoon and evening.

SECOND DEGREE THE VERDICT IN MURDER CASE

Not less than seven years or more than 20 years in the Western Penitentiary at Riverside was the sentence imposed by Judge R. S. Holt Wednesday upon Harry Musconey, who had been found guilty of murder in the second degree.

Musconey had been indicted for the killing of Bert Quill, alias Bert Quillo, at West Zollarsville, on the night of December 22, 1912. Musconey and Quill had had some words at the home of Mrs. Johanna Justuat. Later the two men left the house and a short time afterwards Quill staggered in the door and remarked, 'Well he shot me." Musconey was apprehended after a two days' chase at Bentleyville. The commonwealths testimony tended to show that Musconey shot Quill without provocation, that Quill had no gun, and had just made some remark to Musconey, when Musconey pulled his gun and fired the fatal shot.
